

Consider Jesus Today

A man indeed a fool must be
To think this earth and sky and sea
Just happened accidentally;
Without the Hand of God
Accidents aren't orderly
The patterns and designs I see
In every thing convinces me
We are the work of God.

If you should say, prove there is God,
I'll just reply, prove there is not!
I prefer the higher odd,
Two chances to your one.
If you are right, we both shall die
No difference then, twixed you and I.
If I am right then safe am I,
While you are all undone!

Consider well the things I say,
And come to Jesus while you may;
Salvations time is just today!
Tomorrow is too late
Dear friend, please open up your eyes
Behold the earth and sea and skies
Perhaps you too, will realize
Oh! Do no hesitate.
